

Lighting of London.

Incomparable Illumination.

Architectural lighting is all about highlighting the distinct qualities and characteristics of a space. It's not just about providing illumination, but about creating a captivating atmosphere that goes beyond practicality. Each of our products is designed not only to illuminate a space but also to enhance it.

Why use Lighting of London?

Lighting Longevity

Our products have been meticulously designed with the highest quality components to ensure that they are not only reliable, but also long-lasting. We take pride in crafting each product with great attention to detail, so that our customers can enjoy them for years to come.

Seamless Integration

The size of our products has been carefully considered to ensure seamless integration into any environment without compromising light quality. You may not notice our products but you will notice the difference they make.

Beautifully Bespoke

We understand every project is unique, and therefore so might be your lighting requirements. From beam angle to colour temperature, you can customise our lighting fittings to create the best light output for you.

Superior Binning

A flawless light output is guaranteed by the best binning rating. Our products are rated 1SDCM as standard, ensuring there are no visible differences in the light output across separate fittings.

Exceptional CRI

All of our products have a minimum CRI value of 90, ensuring a more realistic depiction of colour. High CRI lighting feels comfortable and natural, enabling people to feel their best.
